In his latest project, "Whatever Next," Bridlington explores the boundaries of imagination and creativity. Through a series of sculptures, paintings, and drawings, he invites viewers to join him on a journey into the unknown.

Exploring the Unknown

The "Whatever Next" project is a departure from Bridlington's previous work. In the past, he has focused on creating realistic sculptures of human and animal figures. However, in this project, he lets go of the constraints of reality and embraces the boundless possibilities of imagination.

The sculptures in "Whatever Next" are a menagerie of strange and wonderful creatures. There are floating jellyfish with glowing tentacles, towering robots with blinking eyes, and mischievous fairies with sparkling wings. The paintings are equally imaginative, depicting scenes of alien landscapes, underwater worlds, and celestial bodies.

Through his art, Bridlington challenges viewers to question their assumptions about the world and to open their minds to the possibilities of the unknown. He invites us to believe that anything is possible if we can only imagine it.

The Power of Imagination

The "Whatever Next" project is a celebration of the power of imagination. Bridlington believes that imagination is a powerful tool that can be used to create new worlds, solve problems, and make our dreams a reality.

In a world that is often dominated by logic and reason, it is important to remember the power of imagination. Imagination is what allows us to see beyond the present and to envision a better future. It is what drives us to create new things and to make a positive impact on the world.

Bridlington's "Whatever Next" project is a reminder that anything is possible if we can only imagine it. By embracing the power of imagination, we can create a world that is more beautiful, more just, and more fulfilling.
