Althea Rose is a force to be reckoned with. She is the founder and CEO of Casa Dragones, a tequila company that produces some of the most sought-after tequilas in the world. Rose's story is one of perseverance, passion, and a love for tequila.

Rose was born in Mexico City in 1969. Her father was a diplomat, and her mother was a journalist. Rose grew up in a household where tequila was always present. Her father would often bring back bottles of tequila from his travels, and Rose would help him taste them. She developed a love for tequila at a young age, and she knew that she wanted to one day work in the tequila industry.

After graduating from college, Rose moved to New York City to work as a marketing consultant. She quickly rose through the ranks, and she eventually became a partner in a successful marketing firm. However, Rose never forgot her love for tequila. In 2006, she decided to leave her job and start her own tequila company.

Rose's goal was to create a tequila that was smooth, sophisticated, and approachable. She worked with a team of master distillers to develop a unique recipe, and she sourced the finest agave from the highlands of Jalisco. The result was Casa Dragones Joven, a tequila that was unlike anything else on the market.

Casa Dragones Joven was an instant success. It was praised by critics and consumers alike, and it quickly became one of the most popular tequilas in the world. Rose's success was due in part to her hard work and dedication, but it was also due to her passion for tequila.

Rose is a true pioneer in the tequila industry. She is one of the few women who own and operate a tequila company, and she has helped to change the way that people think about tequila. Rose's tequilas are not just for shots or margaritas. They are meant to be sipped and savored, and they are perfect for any occasion.

Rose is an inspiration to women everywhere. She is a successful entrepreneur who has followed her dreams and achieved her goals. She is a role model for women who want to start their own businesses, and she is a champion for women in the tequila industry.

Althea Rose is a visionary leader who has changed the face of the tequila industry. She is a true pioneer, and she is an inspiration to women everywhere.
